

Great Nuclear Debate Research Form

Directions: Each student, regardless of role, is responsible for filling out one of these forms. Claim your position. Write important research in the boxes (use at least the boxes I give you and if you need more, hit tab), and write the source used next to the information. In the table below it, organize the information into 2-3 DIFFERENT arguments for your position.

| Research | Source |
|----------|--------|
| | |
| | |
| | |
| | |
| | |
| | |
| | |

| Argument # | Claim: | Evidence: | Reasoning |
|----------------|---|---|--|
| example | I think this because... I think most people like chocolate ice cream. | Restate the research from above in your own words that goes with this argument. I interviewed 3 store clerks at 3 different ice cream stores and they said they have to re-stock the chocolate the most. Their inventory shows they order much more chocolate than any other flavor | Cite reasons for the claim you made, based on your evidence. If the store clerks have to re-stock chocolate ice cream more, and the inventory shows they order more chocolate than other flavors, this must mean that consumers are eating more chocolate. |
| 1 | | | |
| 2 | | | |
| 3 | | | |

